HIGHVIEW,
MYSORE.

Dear Mrs Briggs

Come to tea - tomorrow if you can manage to take Rachel for an hour - my daughter has not been well. She has changed schools & I hope he will be happy in Central Bangalore. Rachel feels relieved as a treat

Mrs K. T. was touched at your thinking of her

Yours Sincerely

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

birthday. Told me you sent a nice message from Mrs Inuya sorry
not to see her & also wrote her name in her 3rd & 1st P book ——
It was Thursday
Thursday evening. Told Hot Baths you know when he is really better always drove me home & was awfully nice, but certainly takes a very dismal View of life. I noticed what how he never takes the slightest notice of his poor boys. I can't tell all, but she feels deeply his treatment & I am unable to attach him he owned at once boy I had heard all from her. Called in much more calm, I met C. I. to visit her new Indian room last evening - I only left Heid Bonds cried

I hope to have the pleasure of seeing you boys tomorrow.
I see Kyaugmaw has retired. He will find her new house hold difficult = I had so much more to tell you the other evening.
Dewan always praises you much. I thinks he has put a new lease of life. The enclosed very entertaining I think Mrs Cobb a very disappointed
man. tired of society